

A NEW RESOURCE FOR RELATIONAL MINISTRY

- Is your church, ministry, or nonprofit looking for a way to better connect your members and volunteers with those you serve—beyond one-time events?
- Do you, as a volunteer, want to learn how to come alongside your neighbors and people in your community to serve in a more impactful way?

We are excited to share new tools to equip you in relational ministry! Partners in Hope recently published two workbooks that offer practical steps for fulfilling God’s command to love others and help those in need. Sharing the gift of our ongoing presence with our neighbors (“walking with others”) can be a complete game-changer in terms of the impact we have on our communities, our ministry partners, and the Kingdom of God.

The Power of “With”: Making a greater impact with a relational ministry culture, is a workbook for churches and faith-based nonprofits that will help you think differently about your serving model, develop partnerships with other ministries, and identify resources in your community. You will also gain an understanding of the importance of training your volunteers so your organization can better walk “with” others.

Walking with Others: Increase your impact by shifting the way you serve your community, guides volunteers through eight practical steps to strengthen your understanding of how to walk with your neighbors and grow your confidence to offer Christ in a relational way.

Both workbooks address the “why” and “how” of relational ministry and explore the Biblical basis for adjusting the way we serve others by building relationships with people in need rather than exclusively providing one-time, transactional support.

PIH leaders will offer training sessions associated with these workbooks, providing insights gained from more than 10 years of experience ministering to our neighbors in need of friendship. Contact matt@pihtx.org for more information on trainings.
