Walking With Others

- Feel more confident and equipped to come alongside your neighbors
- Explore some practical ways you can support others in an ongoing way
- Learn how to have personal boundaries in supportive relationships

This training is for anyone who wants to better understand how to serve in a relational way. You will gain valuable skills you can take back to your church, ministry, or nonprofit.

Sign up today and invite your friends, family, coworkers, small group, ministry team, service group, and neighbors!
